Printer Boy's Misery Is Ended

Famous Pointer Dog Was Beyond Recovery and Edward Lewellyn Killed Him.

Printer Boy, the most valuable pointer dog in the West, was shot yesterday morning by Edward Lewellyn. Printer Boy went into his Wednesday night, and his sufferings were so great that it was necessary to kill him. The dog was valued by its owner, N. D. Bain, at $1000. He was a famous breeder and the father of many of the fine dogs on the Northwest.

The last hours of the pointer were terrible agony. For a time it was believed that he would recover from the terrible effects of the ammonia that had been thrown on him the afternoon he ran into the shed at the Lindenberg cold-storage plant, but his injuries were so severe that he was beyond assistance. The chemical had frozen his flanks and affected his vitals, and, after a brief improved spell, he began to grow worse. Wednesday afternoon his right ear fell off except for a slender cord that had resisted the ammonia. There were great sores on his right hind leg and flank, and even the intestines were affected.

Wednesday night the dog was taken with fits, during which he suffered terrible agony. His howlings could be heard for blocks, and when Mr. Lewellyn removed him from the room in which he had been placed the famous dog seemed dead. A short time later, signs of life were detected, and ere long the animal made an effort to raise his head. The ammonia had done its work, however, and as an act of mercy Mr. Lewellyn put a bullet through Printer Boy's head, ending his misery. The dog could not have lived more than a few hours at the most. Mr. Bain is very much broken up over the loss of Printer Boy, and during his last spell of suffering the master could not be induced to be near his animal.

The valuation of $1000 placed on Printer Boy is said to have been too high, but the dog was insured for that amount when he was sent from Baker City to Astoria. His pups are easily sold for $100 each and there has always been brisk demand for them.

As yet District Attorney Allen has not returned an information against Arthur Scroggin, the man who is accused of having thrown ammonia on Printer Boy. It is believed, however, that an information will be entered today, although Mr. Allen was noncommittal when questioned yesterday about the matter. He stated that he had not returned an information previously for the reason that he wished to secure some additional evidence against the accused. Judge Winton has succeeded J. H. Smith and George Nolan as Scroggin's attorney. He said yesterday that he intended fighting the case for the young man and seemed to feel that he could offer some strong testimony in his defense. Scroggin is still at the county jail, where he has been confined ever since he was surrendered by his bondsman.

JOHNSON ESTATE APPRAISED

Administrator Given Permission to Sell Wood Exhibit.

Maxwell Young, James Finlayson and S. D. Adair, appraisers of the estate of the late Aurdew J. Johnson, government forestry expert, yesterday filed with Probate Judge Trenchard their statement of the value of the estate. The total valuation placed on the Clatsop possessions of Mr. Johnson is $7566.68. The value of the flower gardens at Smith Point is placed at $4500.

Frank J. Taylor, administrator of the estate, yesterday filed a petition for permission to sell the Johnson wood exhibit, which is desired by the Lewis and Clark fair commissioners for the St. Louis and Portland fairs. The petition recited that the collection was of very great value during the life of the deceased, but that its value now was merely as an exhibit. The administrator had been offered $700 for it and he asked an order from the court to sell it for this sum. The order was granted. Mr. Johnson died intestate. The heirs of the estate are his brothers G. A. Johnson, of San Francisco, and C. A. Johnson, of Los Angeles, Cal., and his sister, Annie Erickson of this city.

CHINAMAN IN JAIL

A Chinaman was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Binder for indecent conduct on the streets. It appears that he had become a nuisance in a particular locality and complaint against him resulted in his arrest. He was placed in a cell, where he presented a sorry spectacle. Whether or not charges will be filed against him has not been announced.

TWO GRAIN SHIPS CLEAR.

Two grain carriers have cleared for the United Kingdom. The mammoth German bark Nauarcho, the largest sailing vessel that ever entered the Columbia river, takes 33,764 bushels of wheat, worth $65,293, and 30,173 bushels of barley, valued at $4,743. The French bark Emil Galline takes 23,483 bushels of wheat, valued at $16,500, and 30,426 bushels of barley, valued at $50,000.

LIKELY TO TAKE THIS RUN

No Opening on Sound for the New Telephone.

Work has been suspended on the new Telephone, and nothing more will be done toward her completion until the claims against her, some $20,000, are settled. It appears that the stockholders in the Arrow Navigation Company have declined to make any further advances of money for the new boat, but Captain Cochran, the manager, is trying to get matters straightened out, and hopes to so arrange things that work will be begun again next Monday. The Arrow, built by the same company, was met with bad luck on the sound, having been first crowded off the Seattle-Bremerton run. Presumably this business reverse has dampened the ardor of the principal stockholders, Isaac Bros., Walla Walla bankers. The failure of the Arrow to successfully cut in on the sound doubtless means that the new Telephone is to go on the Portland-Astoria route.

JURORS EXCUSED BY COURT

Eleven Men Retained to Try Any Further Cases.

Judge McBride yesterday discharged for the term all the circuit court jurors except the 11 men who were trying the case of Berg vs. Sanborn. The court stated that there would probably be but one additional jury case—that of the state vs. Arthur Scroggin—and he felt that the jurors should not be held.

The Berg-Sanborn case was on yesterday and it was after 9 when the attorneys finished their arguments. Chris Berg sued George W. Sanborn for $94, alleged to have been due him for damage to a net which defendant is said to have secured from plaintiff. Judge Winton represented the plaintiff and G. C. Fulton the defendant. This case went to the jury at a late hour, and a sealed verdict was returned. It is reported the plaintiff is awarded $30.

A not true bill was returned in the case of the state against Otto Hill, charged with larceny by bailer. The case of T. H. Wymonds vs. the Columbia River Packers' Association and G. W. DeForce was dismissed.

CITY DENIES ALLEGATIONS

Files Answer in Davidson Damage Suit.

An answer to the complaint was filed yesterday in the case of L. S. Davidson vs. the city of Astoria. Davidson sued the city for $2500 damages for injuries alleged to have been suffered at the foot of Sixth street September 3, 1902. The foot of the street is said by Davidson to have been defective and he claims that there were no fences there to warn pedestrians.

The answer is a denial of all the allegations. It is set up that the street was properly fenced off, and that the accident occurred not on city property but on private property. It is further alleged that Davidson was intoxicated on the night of the accident and that he was responsible for the injury which he suffered. The city asks dismissal of the suit.

Davidson originally sued the railroad company but could not recover.

THE LIBRARY ENTERTAINMENT

Rehearsals Being Held for Benefit Soon to Be Held.

Great interest is being taken in the cantata, "The Mystic Midge," which is being prepared for the benefit of the Astoria public library and which will be presented at Fishers' October 9 and 10. More than 100 children will take part in the entertainment. Fancy costumes, rich and beautiful, are being especially prepared for the event. The pretty story will be told in verse by means of 28 bright and catchy musical numbers. It is clear and morally pure, with brilliant music, and is delightfully sweet in its simplicity, with pathetic light effects and changing colors. The Queen Louise gavotte, by 16 young ladies, and the Floradora sextette will be other pleasing features of the evening.

MANUAL TRAINING OUTFIT.

Chamber and Baker of Boston Mass., have asked Postmaster Reed by letter for the name of the party who wrote them from Astoria asking for price list of manual training apparatus. The party writing overlooked the matter of signing his name. If he would correspond with Rev. William Short of this city, an outfit for manual training might be procured on better terms than the eastern firm can offer.

After Owners Of Sidewalks

City Authorities Make Initial Enforcement of Ordinance Recently Passed.

Acting under instructions from City Attorney Smith, Street Superintendent Kearney yesterday began serving notices on property owners to repair defective sidewalks in front of their property. This is the first action taken by the authorities under the new sidewalk ordinance passed by the council July 6 and signed by Mayor Suprenant July 7. The new ordinance supplants all measures previously passed, and requires property owners to keep sidewalks in good repair and safe condition. Whenever a walk is in need of repair the street superintendent shall serve notice on the owner, and, if he fails to make the repair, the city shall cause the work to be done, adding to the cost a penalty of 25 per cent, which shall be charged against the delinquent owner. The property owner is required to make the repair within 36 hours after the notice is served on him. It is further specified that the city shall recover from property owners in all cases where damages are awarded persons injured because of defective sidewalks. For violation of the ordinance a fine from $10 to $100, or imprisonment for five to 60 days, is provided.

There are several defective walks in the city and the owners of abutting land will be required to repair them. The ordinance is sweeping in its terms and requires that property owners shall keep sidewalks clear of earth, ice, snow or other obstructions.

BUSY TIMES ANTICIPATED.

Yesterday afternoon a man who has been employed at the Bugby rockquarry was up in the police court to answer to a charge of drunkenness. He was found at Astor and Eighth streets in an unconscious condition, and, after coming to, assured the police that he had been doped with knockout drops. The man's story was regarded with skepticism and the police attributed his condition to booze. He was fined $2 and permitted to leave town. It is expected that the Bugby quarry will be a source of endless annoyance to the police this winter. Of the 500 men employed there nearly all have come from San Francisco, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland and Astoria, and the men enjoy themselves immensely when they come to the city to get their pay. From this it is concluded by the city authorities that the transient men at Bugby will be involved more or less.
